

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE*RADCOM Announces the Promotion of Hilik Itman to Chief Operating Officer

TEL AVIV, Israel – January 7, 2020 – RADCOM Ltd. (Nasdaq: RDCM) announced today that Mr. Hilik Itman, previously Vice President of R&D, has been promoted to Chief Operating Officer, effective immediately. Hilik will assume overall responsibility for the execution of our product strategy and customer implementations by leading our Customer Success, Q&A, R&D, and Professional Services teams.

“I would like to congratulate Hilik on this promotion and look forward to working with him side by side as he steps into this important role in the Company,” said Eyal Harari, RADCOM’s CEO. “With over 20 years’ experience in the telecom industry, Hilik has a proven record as a technology leader and is uniquely qualified to drive our 5G product development, with an emphasis on quality assurance, product excellence, and customer satisfaction. I have tremendous confidence in Hilik’s ability to execute on our exciting product strategy, leveraging our market leadership in cloud-native assurance to support our customers’ developing needs as they roll out their 5G services.”

Hilik joined RADCOM in 1997, where he served in several key roles in R&D before being appointed as Vice President of Research and Development in 2014. Since 2014, Hilik has led the development team during the company’s transition from hardware-based to fully virtualized, containerized products for the migration to 5G.
